Each page is devoted to a different aspect of preschool life (preschool time, circle time, play time, sharing time, manners, fire drills, thinking about home time, time for friends, nap time, field trip time, time to make stuff, clean up time, and time to go home) I love the IDEA, but are too many "sections" represented and each page has too much allamericanclocks.coms: PreS—This book introduces children to what they can expect when going to preschool for the first time.
