Short selling is the sale of a security that is not owned by the seller or that the seller has borrowed in the hope that the price will go down. Short selling (or "selling short") is a technique used by people who try to profit from the falling price of a stock. Short selling is a very risky technique as it involves precise timing and goes contrary to the overall direction of the market.

The short seller hopes that the price will fall over time, providing an opportunity to buy back the stock at a lower price than the original sale price.
